A SERIOUS MATTER

For the Democrats to Indorse Cleveland's Hawaiian Policy.

SEEK TO PREVENT PARTY INQUIRY.

Difference of Opinion as to the Proper Course-Considerable Public and Quiet Talk Among Democratic Members of Congress-Little Doubt that the President's Course Will be Censured, Mildly at Least, by Both Houses.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 28 .- In a quiet way among themselves the Democrats in Congress are talking a great deal more about the Hawaiian question than they are about the tariff or any other matter that is now to the front. The more this Hawaiian business is thought over the more satisfied a large number of Democrats become that it would be a very serious matter for the party in Congress to indorse the action of Mr. Cleveland, either indirectly or inferentially, and they are consulting among themselves as to the best way of getting out of it.

A CENSURE OF MR. CLEVELAND'S COURSE. It is asserted that is the question comes directly before the senate the censure of Mr. Cleveland's course in attempting to restore the queen cannot be avoided, and this assertion is made in a way to indicate knowledge of the sentiment of a majority of the senate. It is believed also that the only way to prevent some expression of censure in the house would be by avoiding the matter altogether. There is a very decided division aways. Is more than the control of the control cided division among Democrats on the question of what would be the best course to be pursued; but there are very few Democrats who have any idea of sanctioning Mr. Cleveland's course throughout.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The difference of opinion is chiefly as to whether it would be wiser to give expressions of disapproval or to remain silent on the subject. Those thick and thin supporters of the administration who are referred to as "cuckoos" started out with the purpose set forth on Mr. McCreary's resolution, censuring Mr. Harrison, through Minister Stevens and the late Commander Wiltse, but it is understood now that they are striving to prevent the matter coming before the house in any form. On the other hand, there are a great many Demo-crats, who believe that if they permit Mr. Cleveland's attempt to restore the oueen to pass without notice the party will be held accountable by public opinion, and that the only safe thing for them to do is to disclaim responsibility for Mr. Cleveland's action. The men entertaining these opinions are quite entertaining these opinions are quite entertaining these opinions. aggressive, claiming that the policy of indorsing and taking responsibility for the executive of the party, whether he be right or wrong, is one that will prove disastrous to follow.

DISAPPROVAL IN BOTH HOUSES, It is believed that the investigation started in the senate will culminate in a disapproval of Mr. Cleveland's course, and it is not improbable that there will be an expression of disapproval by the house also. Those members of the house who are cautioning against hasy action argue that the proper course for the house would be to wait until all the cate in the case up brought out by the facts in the case are brought out by the senate investigation before taking any action on the subject in the lower honse. Most of the Democrats are willing to agree with Mr. Cleveland that Mr. Harrison did wrong in permitting Stevens to interfere in Hawaiian affairs at all. There are very few, however, who do not either publicly or privately condemn the course pursued by Mr. Cleveland, and their only question is as to the best means of avoiding responsibility for it and saving the party from injury. The matter is being talked of very widely among members, and the belief is that in one form or another the administration will receive the mark of disapproval of both houses. facts in the case are brought out by the
